

DISCONTINUOUS INSULATED SANDWICH PANEL LINES

Discontinuous panel production for polyurethane-filled panels includes insulated wall and roof building panels, garage doors, entry doors, and refrigeration coolers. The discontinuous plants provide for fast and flexible color and profile changeovers of sandwich panels. They contain one or more presses for the foaming, metering, and curing of panels with an output rate suitable for the panel size being produced.

Double cavity injection discontinuous press

Single cavity open pour discontinuous press